WHO'S WHO IN THE CAST

EDWARD EVERETT HORTON (Henry Dewlip) returns to one of his favorite roles in this comedy classic after a long and colorful career on stage, screen and radio. After 13 seasons on the stage, Mr. Horton appeared in many famous pictures such as "Ruggles of Red Gap," "Here Comes Mr. Jordan," "Lost Horizon," "Sunny," "The Magnificent Dope," and "I Married An Angel." More recently he has been seen in "Cinderella Jones," "Arsenic and Old Lace," and "San Diego, I Love You." Every Thursday evening throughout the summer Mr. Horton can be heard on the Kraft Music Hall.

MATTHEW SMITH (Mr. Jelliwell) is no stranger to Ivoryton. He has had a long and distinguished career on the stage and has appeared in many films, among them: "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" with Norma Shearer.

MURIEL HUTCHINSON (Mrs. Jelliwell) began her career on Broadway in "The Amazing Dr. Clitterhouse" with Sir Cedric Hardwicke. Since then she has appeared in "The Man Who Came to Dinner," "The Doughgirls," "Cry Havoc" and "Tomorrow the World."

ELAINE ELLIS (Miss Smith) has just returned from touring for John Golden in the title role of "Claudia." Miss Ellis is also no stranger to Ivoryton audiences having appeared here for several seasons before the war. She was last seen on Broadway in the ingenue lead in "Down to Miami."
